| Academic Advisement | The enhancement enables pre-matriculated students such as prospects and applicants to generate advisement reports that evaluate completed and self-reported transfer credit models for a selected program of study. In addition, prospective students will be able to generate simulated or "what-if" advisement reports using the same what-if component that enrolled students currently use.  | 9.0 B25     |  | 8.52                        |        |
|                     | Advising notes help advisors keep track of their interactions with their advisees, create action items and attachments. Notes can be created under categories and subcategories. Students can be allowed to access notes and make attachments to them. An Advising Notes administrative page enables administration of all advising notes in the system.   | 9.0 B36     | CS 9.0 Bundle 36. My Oracle Support Update ID 1962921.1. |                     | The 3C Delete Policy Manager enables the institution to define a series of parameters and a process to delete automatically 3C records meeting the defined criteria. The institution may also define criteria or individual records that should never be deleted.  | 9.0 B21     |  | 8.52                        |        |
|                     | This new feature uses the Population Selection and Population Update utilities to enable the institution to update start and end dates and disbursement dates for loan periods and academic years in batch.  | 9.0 B21     |  | 8.52                        |        |
|                     | Enrollment Web Services (EWS) support a variety of integrations and interfaces with the core student enrollment tables, including custom integrations with third-party applications, mobile, and user interfaces. These web services are standards-based and comply with W3C standards. In this first phase we delivered web services to support browsing the Course Catalog, searching for a Class, conducting a Class Search; and viewing a student's study list (class schedule). Also included are List of Values services, to support the display or prompting of valid values for specific fields. | 9.0 B22     | ICS 9.0 Bundle 22. My Oracle Support Update ID 1342836.1. |            | The Common Attribute Framework (CAF) is a new utility that enables institutions to extend the delivered data model to add additional data elements to meet institutionally-specific needs. These added data elements are available throughout the system for processing and reporting and are considered to be configuration, not customization, and will be preserved through the application of maintenance and any future upgrades. Oracle will introduce this with new features we are delivering, such as Program Enrollment, Activity Management and Research Enrollment Tracking and then will incorporate into other, existing features on a phased-in basis. CAF should allow institutions a supported option for eliminating a number of customizations. | 9.0 B26 | CS 9.0 Bundle 26. My Oracle Support Update ID 1477756.1. |            | In Phase 1, we deliver a new robust framework to allow institutions to build rules and business logic using entities from the Entity Registry. Includes two user interfaces: Expert (functional)and Developer. Requires PeopleTools 8.53. This initial phase provides integration between the Rules Engine and Program Enrollment. We expect specific functional application adoption of the Rules Engine to follow in subsequent Additional Feature bundles including enabling rule execution directly from components or pages.  | 9.0 B29 | CS 9.0 Bundle 29. |            | Using the PeopleTools 8.53 Activity Guide feature, CS Student Activity Guides help a user create a guided task by defining a template and "plugging-in" existing pages (either delivered or customized) as Action Items in a specified sequence. Sample Activity Guide Templates use student self-service pages to illustrate how existing pages can be used to create a task and how the assignment of tasks can be organized through the Student Task WorkCenter.  | 9.0 B31 |   | 8.53.06                     |        |
|            | The New User Registration Context setup page is enhanced with an auto-generate feature that provides the specific Production URL and Tester URL to be used by the applications consuming the NUR framework. These application-specific URLs allow users to log in with provisioned security roles to perform online transactions. Users can select which production or tester URL to use and how to make it accessible. They can also fully customize URLs. This enables customers not using the NUR framework to also create a URL to access their custom login page that can later be used in a calling application.   | 9.0 B31 | CS 9.0 Bundle 31. |            | Enhancements allow administrators to specify, in the evaluation code setup, whether or not to send reminder and timeout (when evaluations are overdue) notifications to evaluators. The notifications can be customized for schemes and frequency.   | 9.0 B31 |   | 8.53.04                     |        |
|            | The Rules Engine Manager makes building rules intuitive by providing Rules Engine Statements such as FOR EACH and the CREATE ENTITY. The Rules Engine Manager UI offers flexibility in rule-building supported by additional validation edits that warn the Expert user during a Save operation. Rules Engine builders can access the Entity Registry view for the Base Entity associated with a Rule or Rule Group. Other enhancements include improved navigation, new cross-reference pages, improved Search functionality. The Rules Engine fully supports Repeatable Common Attribute Framework (CAF). Rules Engine records are enabled with Campus Community security. | 9.0 B31 | CS 9.0 Bundle 31. My Oracle Support Update ID 1594532.1.
